

Stretch RECONCILIATION ACTION PLAN July 2020 - July 2023

The artist's story GROWING STRONG TOGETHER

This is a story about the community of Gowrie SA growing strong together. The tree is used as a metaphor to show strength and growth, including the elements of land, water and air to reflect the Kaurna Nation as a natural living and growing symbol. The animals represent people from diverse family units; while the leaves and water offer a food source for some of the animals. The tree illustration portrays a place of shelter and nurture throughout the day and a place to sleep and shelter at night. As the tree grows, it offers wellbeing for the animals along with a place to be nurtured, while the branches represent partnership and development through training, networking and mentoring. The tree drinks from the water and is warmed by the sun; enabling the tree to grow and develop strong foundation through its roots. The seed pods represent new beginnings and relationships for families starting their journey with Gowrie SA. The Kangaroo at the centre of the illustration represents Gowrie SA looking at the tree for inspiration.

Reconciliation Australia CEO STATEMENT

On behalf of Reconciliation Australia, I congratulate Gowrie SA on its continued commitment to reconciliation, as it implements this Stretch Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP); its fourth RAP overall.

Formed around the pillars of relationships, respect, and opportunity, the RAP program asks organisations – including schools and early learning services - to consider the critical role they can play in driving reconciliation across their area of expertise. With the development of this Stretch RAP, Gowrie SA continues to contribute to the ever-growing community of organisations that have taken this consideration and goodwill, and transformed it into action.

For a just, equitable, and reconciled nation to flourish, communities and individuals need to commit to a life-long journey of learning. There is no better place to start this process and to sow the seeds of respect for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander perspectives, cultures, and ways of knowing than in the early learning space. With an indelible footprint and history across South Australia, Gowrie SA is uniquely-placed to drive reconciliation in the communities, families, and institutions in which it operates. Spanning from early learning sites, to research, professional learning, and inclusion support services, the organisation has a diverse field of work and the capacity to think strategically about where its reconciliation efforts will be most effective.

Drawing on the experience of four RAPs, Gowrie SA is reflective about the hurdles faced in implementing its previous reconciliation outcomes. Challenges are approached in this Stretch RAP with thoughtfulness; while learnings are given space to take hold. Programs such as the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Reference Group show the organisation giving First Nations' perspectives precedence in its everyday work; while endeavours such as supporting other sector organisations to develop their own RAPs shows Gowrie SA thinking holistically about how to use its own standing to drive reconciliation momentum.

Furthermore, Gowrie SA is advocating outside of its field of work, by hosting education sessions on the Uluru Statement from the Heart for its community, driving interest and understanding in Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander self-determination and agency.

On behalf of Reconciliation Australia, I commend Gowrie SA on this thoughtful and ambitious Stretch RAP and look forward to following its ongoing reconciliation journey into the future.

Gowrie SA JOINT STATEMENT

Gowrie SA is excited to launch our second Stretch Reconciliation Action Plan. We have been working to build our cultural learning and understanding for many years, and recognise we are still at the early stages of this process. We are fortunate to have Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander staff, and an Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Reference Group who are willing to walk with us in this journey, challenging and teaching us along the way.

Gowrie SA is guided by the Uluru Statement from the Heart and our commitment to Voice Treaty and Truth is reflected throughout this Stretch RAP. We thank Reconciliation Australia for their support and encouragement in putting together a robust Reconciliation Action Plan which we can be proud of.

Acknowledgments

Gowrie SA is on Kaurna land and we acknowledge and recognise Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people as the Native Title holders and custodians of the land and waterways throughout.

Gowrie SA welcomes all Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people to our organisation.

Gowrie SA wishes to acknowledge and thank our Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Reference group members and staff who walked with us in this journey and shared their knowledge and culture with us. We feel honoured to share their wisdom.

Thank you to Little Feet Big Dreams Studio by Dada and Shane Reid (Photographer) for images included in this plan.

OUR VISION FOR RECONCILIATION

Our vision for reconciliation is an Australia where Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and all other Australians participate in an equitable and fair society.

We recognise early education as offering pathways towards generational social change contributing to better life outcomes for all young children.

We will engage early childhood educators in culturally responsive pedagogies and practices that provide culturally safe, inclusive environments for all children and their families to provide a sense of belonging, rich learning opportunities and appreciation of the value of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander languages and cultures.

OUR BUSINESS

Gowrie SA opened in 1940 as an integrated early childhood service providing education and care for children birth to school age and programs for parents. Today we offer kindergarten and childcare at two early education sites in Adelaide, and two state-wide programs - inclusion of children into mainstream children's services and professional development and learning for educators. We have staff located through South Australia in the south-east, far and mid-north, Port Augusta/Whyalla and the Riverland. Gowrie SA employs 80 (FTE) staff (including four Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander staff) in a multi-disciplinary team including education, health, welfare and disability. Our work involves participation in key state and national networks. Gowrie SA is part of a consortium of Gowrie organisations located in each state. This consortium has a national publication that facilitates dissemination of research and practice to the education and care sector.

Early Childhood Program

Our children's program is central to our core work, learning and research. In our children's program, we directly influence the learning of young children thereby contributing to changes in future generations.

We offer two integrated childcare and kindergarten programs arranged into two age groupings - infants to three year olds, and three year olds to school age. Our philosophy utilises primary caregiving practices that aim to foster secure attachment relationships between educators and children. This enables children to flourish in social groups, supports children's emotional development and enhances learning and development. We have established learning environments that support children to connect to nature and natural environments and materials, where open exploration and learning encourages children's decision-making. Working in partnership with parents, extended family and community is integral to our work. Since our first Reconciliation Action Plan in 2011, our children's program connects strongly with learning about Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and histories.

Inclusion Agency for SA:

Gowrie SA is the Inclusion Agency for South Australia with funding from the federal Department of Education, Skills and Employment under the Inclusion Support Program (ISP).

As the Inclusion Agency, Gowrie SA provides inclusion support to education and care services (children's services such as childcare, family day care and out of school hours care) to build educators' capacity to assist children with a range of special rights to access inclusive mainstream education and care services. This program also supports education and care services to understand how to improve the inclusion of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children and their families.

Below: Uncle Ivan Tiwu Copley

During 2019-20, Gowrie SA in the Inclusion Agency role supported 85% of eligible education and care services with inclusion support. We anticipate this number will keep growing.

Professional Learning Program:

The Gowrie SA Professional Learning Program is available to all early childhood and children's services in South Australia and provides a program of workshops as well as intensive, customised in-service and consultancy services for the sector.

These professional development programs include ten Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultural awareness programs co-designed with local Elders and Aboriginal staff. In 2018 and 2019, we offered 54 Cultural Awareness sessions including 17 sessions for centre teams at their sites, sessions with special guests including Reconciliation Australia and Reconciliation South Australia, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Elders and community members, and sessions sharing the Narragunnawali platform for building a Reconciliation Action Plan.

OUR RAP

As an organisation we have found that having a Reconciliation Action Plan (2011 to current) has assisted us to make significant contributions to our staff awareness and understanding of the importance of reconciliation. Over the three years of our Stretch Reconciliation Action Plan, we have provided a range of professional learning and immersion opportunities for our staff team including the true history of our nation, historical practices and policies, white privilege, racism, rights, cultural competence and contemporary perspectives of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples. This has meant that many of our staff have become proactive advocates for reconciliation within their professional networks and personal lives. In 2018, Thomas Mayor was the keynote speaker at our Annual General Meeting, sharing the process and vision that led to the Uluru Statement from the Heart (2017).

As we develop our current RAP, we acknowledge the ongoing support of the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander community and the relationships that have developed over the last 8 years, as well as our work with Reconciliation Australia to develop a robust RAP.

Gowrie SA recognises our organisational responsibilities to work towards reconciliation and supports the five dimensions of Reconciliation Australia.

Race relations - through early education we can make positive changes to understanding and attitudes of young children, their families, our employees, and the sector to build trust and respect between Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander and non-Indigenous Australians.

- > Equality and equity through our work we aim to influence educators in children's services to understand the need to provide welcoming, culturally safe and respectful education and care environments that will enable Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children and their families to participate equally to achieve important early learning outcomes for young Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children. In this way, we seek to contribute to Closing the Gap strategies.
- Institutional integrity as a leader in early education. Gowrie SA will be active in supporting all dimensions of reconciliation, and in particular focus on creating a wider range of opportunities for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples both through direct employment and accessing and promoting Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander businesses for supply of services.
- > Unity our work will continue to promote Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander histories, cultures and rights as part of our shared national identity. We will work to ensure our staff understand the significance of, and political processes relating to, Constitutional recognition and the Uluru Statement. We will continue to be strong advocates in our sector and wider community to promote broader understanding.
- > Historical acceptance Gowrie SA will continue our educative work both within our organisation and more broadly in the children's services sector to build wider acceptance and understanding of our nation's history and agreement that we will never repeat the wrongs of the past to ensure truth, justice, healing and historical acceptance.

Our current RAP was developed through broad consultation with our internal stakeholders (Gowrie staff, children and families), with our external stakeholders (children's services and organisations) and with the local Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander community. Our Reconciliation Action Plan Working Group (RWG) members provide representation across the organisation.

Below: Uncle Moogy Sumner

In 2019, Gowrie SA established an Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Reference Group that includes local community members and senior staff. This group will continue to support and inform the next RAP into 2020 and beyond.

- > Uncle Ivan Tiwu Copley (Elder)
- > Uncle Eddie Peters (Elder)
- > Rodney Welch (Community member)
- > Nicole Gollan (Community Member)
- > Lynne Rutherford (CEO)
- > Mary Scales (Program Leader)
- > Allie Holmes (Administration Officer)

There is a dynamic relationship between these two groups with RWG members able to attend Reference Group meetings and an exchange of information occurring between the two groups. The Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Reference Group provides feedback and commentary of the work of the RWG and provide a forum to discuss aspirational goals for reconciliation at both the local and national level.

There is diversity within the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Reference Group with representation of Kaurna, Peramangk, Narungga, Ngarrindjeri, Kul Kal and Meriam Nations. Our meetings include members sharing information about their culture and life experiences and this cultural learning continuously builds our knowledge and understanding of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander histories and cultures. Two members of the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Reference Group, Uncle Ivan Tiwu Copley and Uncle Eddie Peters are regular visitors to the organisation and have developed strong relationships with the RWG as well as Gowrie staff in all program areas.

KEY LEARNING AND CHALLENGES AND ACHIEVEMENTS

Challenges

Since becoming the Inclusion Agency for South Australia, our staff team grew by around 40% with the majority of new staff having had no or minimal experience in learning about Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander histories, cultures and contributions, or reconciliation, which was confirmed through specific interview questions relating to cultural competence and reconciliation. With a higher number of staff we changed some of the ways we hold organisational meetings and professional learning opportunities which has provided a challenge in ensuring we are learning together, prioritising cultural learning as part of our core work, and understanding how concepts of reconciliation relate to each of our programs.

Another challenge has been the recruitment and retention of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander staff. While we had been able to build up the number of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander staff employed to 6, 4 have left within the term of the RAP. This has highlighted the need for us to re-focus on recruitment and retention strategies in our new RAP. We plan to engage an Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander consultant to assist us with improving our processes, protocols and policies regarding recruitment and retention. This will support us to better understand and articulate the roles we have within our organisation for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people, as well as how we can incorporate Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander employment and cultural protocols into our practices. The current protocol has not been effective in meeting our goals for recruitment and retention and we will seek advice to develop a comprehensive and effective Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Employment Protocol that will outline opportunities, selection processes and specific employment and leave conditions.

We have noticed that through the Inclusion Agency there have been lower numbers of requests for service for Aboriginal children than we would anticipate given the population and regional data available. In this new RAP we will be looking at this more closely to focus on working with eligible services to support them in the provision of culturally safe and welcoming environments for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander families promoting the Narragunnawali: Reconciliation in Education program commitments which are embedded in our cultural learning packages.

We have been unsuccessful in attracting an Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Board member. We will continue to promote Gowrie SA Board opportunities to local Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander families and communities.

Key Learning

We have been fortunate to build a core group of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people who are supporting our work and we need to continue to extend our network with whom we work. This includes developing or expanding our relationships with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Elders, in particular Kaurna Elders and key community members.

We have a core group of staff who have been driving the work of the RWG, and who have been attending significant events and meetings as well as building relationships with community members and Elders. We are now at the stage of recognising that we need to share these relationships and this work more broadly across the team.

We are delving deeper into the protocols relating to referencing Kaurna language and during the course of the next RAP we aim to seek guidance from the Kaurna Warra Pintyanthi Committee regarding the people we can consult with, and the processes involved to ensure that we are respectful in how we use and advocate for language.

Below: Karen Briggs

Achievements

We have formed an Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Reference Group, which meets a minimum of four times a year. Representatives on this group include Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Elders and community members and they are providing invaluable cultural guidance. We would like to acknowledge their contribution to our learning, thinking and knowledge. It has also provided us with the opportunity to collaborate with like-minded organisations that are working towards reconciliation.

In the latter stages of working with an Elder in Residence, the late Auntie Brodie, we realised the importance of documenting her work and our learning together. In a large organisation, it was important for us to ensure that the knowledge gained was shared, retained and utilised in our daily work with children and families. We were able to document the work with Auntie, collate the documentation about her work with children and record the language and songs we had learnt into a resource that honoured what she had contributed to our programs. This resource has also become our foundation document that guides how we continue to embed cultural perspectives into our daily work in the children's program.

We had four staff members complete an Introduction to Kaurna language course offered by Kaurna Warra Pintyanthi, and one Aboriginal staff member is now participating in the higher level Kaurna language course. Our staff members are bringing Kaurna language into our programs through this learning and through our previous work with the Elder in Residence, and are sharing their experiences with others as a way of advocating for the continued revival of Kaurna language.

Senior leaders regularly attend Supply Nation events and have systems for recording, tracking and reporting on procurement. This has seen a steady increase in procurement totals over the three years of the RAP. We also access local South Australian Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander businesses and collaborate with them in the provision or procurement of services.

Our other achievement has been the strength and dedication of our RWG members. We have achieved consistency in this group, representation across our organisation and recruited members who are willing to learn, reflect, share and continue to shift the benchmark to ensure we are striving to do more towards reconciliation. It is clear this is making a difference to individuals as professionals and in their personal lives.

Over the term of this RAP, we have increased the number of student placements for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students. This has been due to building up our relationship with Tauondi College as part of our commitment to reconciliation and building connection to the community. This started with offering observation tours and student placements in our organisation for business administration students. Attendance at Turkindi Information Network of SA meetings (a group that meets regularly with a focus on assisting Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples in finding meaningful employment, training and relevant community information) has strengthened our organisational relationships with the College and more recently, we have hosted three students. This has also led to a group of students coming here for an observation tour and Q&A session around business admin and IT. We now offer Responding to Abuse and Neglect training to their staff team at least once a year and this involves Kura Yerlo inc, a local Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander service that joins the sessions. In the last twelve months, we have also started to use Tauondi as a venue for our professional learning sessions and conferences for some sessions for Northern and Western suburbs, offering an alternative location that is more convenient. This relationship has grown over time into a mutually beneficial and reciprocal partnership.

We were excited to attend the launch of the first Narragunnawali Reconciliation Action Plan by Banksia Park Kindergarten. This team first came to us in 2015 to participate in one of our Cultural learning sessions and this was the beginning of them committing to the development of a Reconciliation Action Plan. During their development phase we supported them through connecting them with community members and Elders, reading draft RAPs and providing feedback and mentoring as they developed their RAP.

Below: Mel Von Senden

Case Study 1

We have been learning about how to improve the cultural safety of an Aboriginal professional learning facilitator. Initially in our sessions, we were finding a small percentage of people required to attend by their employer, which affected their motivation and interest in the knowledge and learning. In talking this through, we modified our booking process, our form of delivery and our accountability to the service. When a person is booked in to any cultural learning session we now confirm their place, provide clear expectations and some pre-reading for them as preparation for the session. Both an Aboriginal facilitator and a non-Aboriginal facilitator now deliver these sessions to ensure that if there are any difficulties, they have support. This is particularly important now that we know that our introductory sessions in cultural learning for the early education and care sector that were created in conjunction with Elders are gaining more and more interest, especially as 'in centre' sessions where a whole team can explore this learning together.

Case Study 2

We created a new role of Aboriginal Cultural Practitioner. This staff member works in all programs across our organisation to support the learning of all staff. The Aboriginal Cultural Practitioner, Mel Von Senden, is a Narungga and Ngarrindjeri woman who is working on Kaurna land in the following programs:

- Children's Program to support the inclusion of Kaurna language, planning for celebrations of key events and embedding authentic practices within our rooms
- Inclusion Agency to share practical strategies with Inclusion Professionals around supporting education and care services to support the inclusion of children from Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander backgrounds
- Professional Learning Program to co-present cultural learning sessions and to create professional learning sessions for qualified practitioners working with children and families.

RELATIONSHIPS

A core part of the Gowrie SA philosophy in all of our programs is building relationships. We recognise that relationships involve connecting people and we will continue to acknowledge and work with key Kaurna Elders, as well as other Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Elders and community members. We recognise our responsibilities to nurture diverse relationships to build stronger communication, engagement and partnerships. Our Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Reference Group guide the development of these relationships.

Through our work, we have an opportunity to be role models for children, families, employees and the broader community, thus influencing change. We will continue to invite Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples to be visible within our children's programs as visitors and teachers, through our shared exchanges with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children's centres and through valuing the culture of our Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children and families. In our inclusion and professional learning programs, we will engage more Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander consultants and presenters to work with children's services.

Through a multi-level approach across all parts of the organisation, stronger partnerships with the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander community will be nurtured leading to sustainable and embedded relationships.

Our reach through our long-standing history in the education and care community, through our employees, and social media allow us to demonstrate our commitment to important initiatives such as the Uluru Statement from the Heart, a referendum for recognition of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples in the Constitution. and the value of having a Reconciliation Action Plan.

RESPECT

In building our own learning of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander history, we are recognising that our schooling systems have not provided this learning to us. We need to support young children in this learning of history much earlier in life, acknowledging that through such learning there is a flow-on effect to families, employees and the broader community. Such learning supports us in recognising the history of the land we inhabit, who the First Australians were and are, and the cultural practices and traditions that sustainably supported people and the land long before colonisation. Learning also supports us to build respect and pride in Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures and knowledge, creating space and opportunities for children, families, employees and clients to hear history and stories in ways that challenge and inform them. This learning comes through our work within the children's program, through our attendance at cultural training, through our engagement with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and businesses, through acknowledging the achievements of contemporary Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, through challenges to stereotypes and through sharing of our learning with the broader sector.

Participation in celebrations and events such as National Reconciliation Week, NAIDOC Week, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Children's Day, and Sorry Day continue to build our knowledge, appreciation and pride in culture and history. Sharing these events and subsequent learning with our community supports others to take an interest in these events too. Kaurna history and culture is not strongly visible in our community and through learning about our local area, we hope to increase knowledge of the history in our local area and share this with others.

ACTION

Increase staff understanding, value and recognition of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures, histories, knowledge and rights through cultural learning and ongoing development of the cultural learning strategy.

OPPORTUNITIES

As a medium sized organisation, we have opportunities to recruit Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander employees, and to purchase from Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander owned and controlled businesses. This is about more than meeting targets, but embedding good practices within the organisation. We believe it is important to work towards being a culturally safe organisation where Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people want to work. The Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Reference Group can support us to think differently and challenge our current practices so that we are able to attract and retain a diverse workforce that includes Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander employees, leaders and consultants.

We are able to promote the employment of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and the use of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander businesses to the broader sector and community. Our organisation is supportive of professional learning opportunities and we can continue to engage Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples to further our professional learning and knowledge, both internally and externally, supporting the broader education and care sector to engage with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander facilitators and programs through Reconciliation SA and Reconciliation Australia.
